

Strategy Overview – Portfolio Variation 1

The PanAm Income Limited Partnership has been exclusively formed for the purpose of offering an investment with low risk and an attractive yield. The LP will only invest in a portfolio of assets with an expected internal rate of return (IRR*) of 10% or greater. This is accomplished by acquiring ownership in or providing production loans for “proven, income generating” wells, currently producing from an established oil and gas reserve base. Our focus will be exclusively on properties in Canada and the U.S, with “opportunities for improved revenues” through the use of further drilling and/or the implementation of enhanced recovery methods.

In this fund, approximately 90% of monies available for investment will be directed toward the acquisition of producing oil and gas wells “within the limits of existing fields”. About 10% of funds will be utilized for development activities in fields with upside potential. Such development activities may include well work-overs, re-completions and enhanced recovery methods. Our strategy will be to invest 70% or more of funds available for acquisition of interests in oil or natural gas liquids and a maximum of 30% for the acquisition of natural gas assets.*
